Paying for Services – Getting Started

A service is an activity in which labor is the major factor and not merely incidental to the production, acquisition, and/or delivery of a good. The procurement of services has unique requirements, and the first requirement is an evaluation of whether, based upon guidelines established by the Internal Revenue Services, the individual or entity providing the service should be classified as an employee or an independent contractor (vendor).

The next page contains a flowchart that will enable units to quickly determine whether they must contact another university office for guidance, appoint the service provider as an employee, or perform a service provider evaluation.

When a service provider evaluation is necessary, a questionnaire will be completed by the potential service provider. This Service Provider Questionnaire will enable the unit to evaluate whether a service provider should be classified as an employee or independent contractor. The evaluation and classification must be performed before engaging an individual or entity to perform services and before any services begin. It must be based upon IRS guidelines, not on administrative ease or relative costs.

Note: If the IRS reviews classifications and determines the service provider should have been classified as an employee, any costs associated with misclassification (taxes, interest, penalty) are the responsibility of the unit.

Paying Foreign Nationals

Individuals entering the United States to work at Cornell University have many issues to consider. In an effort to ensure institutional compliance with federal regulations, Cornell's Global Operations unit provides expertise on hiring non-U.S. citizens to work in the U.S. Contact the Navigate Team within Cornell's Global Operations unit.

Worked Performed Outside of the United States

Work performed overseas can present a range of legal, financial, safety, and logistical considerations that create complications and could add expenses. This is true regardless of the nationality of the service provider. Consideration also must be given to whether the arrangement could trigger corporate registration or licensing requirements that may result in additional financial or regulatory obligations in the host country.

Before engaging a service provider to perform services outside of the United States, contact the Navigate Team within Cornell’s Global Operations unit. Select “Ask a Question” from the top menu bar and provide information on the services you require, including location and if known, who will be performing the services.

Service Providers – General Information
The following information does not apply to service providers appointed through Payroll.

Insurance
The service provider (vendor) is generally required to provide proof that they meet the university’s minimum insurance requirements if the performance of the service could result in liability to the University (i.e., services performed on university property). For information on the university’s minimum insurance requirements, see Section 405, Insurance Requirements topic within this manual. If you are unsure as to whether the intended service provider must provide proof of insurance, contact Risk Management and Insurance.

♦ Note: Procurement and Payment Services (Procurement) updates the KFS vendor record for those vendors that are required to provide proof of adequate insurance coverage. You may check the Insurance tab on the vendor record in KFS.

Contracts
A contract must be executed between the service provider (vendor) and the university in order to establish mutually agreed upon terms and conditions of the transaction. The university’s purchase order is a legally binding contract that contains terms and conditions designed to protect the interests of the university.

When procuring services, it is often advisable to include terms beyond those in the Cornell purchase order’s standard terms and conditions, such as the scope of work or deliverables, acceptance criteria, identification of who will provide the services, etc. Contracts covering several specific types of services have been drafted by the Office of University Counsel and these documents will be used in conjunction with the purchase order. The contracts, listed below, can be found on the Procurement website at http://www.dfa.cornell.edu/procurement/tools-forms/forms/contracts.

The Navigate team members from Human Resources, the Office of University Counsel, and the University Tax Office will advise you on country-specific issues.
  - Complete the International Independent Contractor Certification and Attestation (PDF, 256 KB). This form must be completed by any individual who provides services in any jurisdiction outside the United States on Cornell’s behalf, regardless of nationality or country of residence. All information must be entered completely by the person to perform the services to ensure accuracy and a timely review. The information on this form is to be used to determine whether the services and individual comply with the independent contractor guidelines set out by the U.S. IRS and the laws of the country where the services will be performed.

Finally, units with unusual business needs require customized contracts. Such contracts must be reviewed by the Office of University Counsel; therefore, it is advisable to contact Procurement prior to initiating the purchase order. Additional information on contracts can be found in section 409 of this manual.

Note: Procurement has negotiated university wide contracts with certain frequently used service providers. These vendors have already been evaluated and classified as independent contractors. For a list of these service providers, please see the list of preferred and contract suppliers on the Procurement website at http://www.dfa.cornell.edu/procurement/supplierlistview.

Joint Venture

The university may enter into a joint venture with an outside entity for the performance of services. These ventures are often complicated. Units must involve Procurement prior to entering into such an agreement.

Sponsored Project Consulting Agreements and Subcontracts

When an individual is performing services that are directly related to the science or scope of a sponsored project, a Service Provider Evaluation must be completed to determine if the individual is an employee or an independent contractor. If after the evaluation, the service provider is deemed to be an Independent Contractor, a purchase order is required and an Independent Contractor/Consultant Agreement must be completed. Proceed to Section 701, the Service Provider Evaluation.

Note: If another organization is performing a substantive portion of the work effort based upon an award made to Cornell, it may be necessary to formalize this relationship through the execution of a subcontract. Such agreements are executed by the Office of Sponsored Programs (OSP). Please see OPS’s website at www.osp.cornell.edu/ for further information on subcontracts.
