CORNELL UNIVERSITY POLICY LIBRARY

Processing and Reporting Changes in Student Enrollment Status Under Title IV

POLICY STATEMENT

Cornell University processes and reports changes in student enrollment status in a manner consistent with the requirements of Title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended (“Title IV”). This policy establishes processes and expectations, and centralizes certain key compliance-related aspects of the associated processes.

REASON FOR POLICY

Cornell University must comply with Title IV when reporting changes in student enrollment status and returning unearned Title IV funds, where necessary, to avoid enhanced oversight and monitoring requirements by the U.S. Department of Education, loss or repayment of funds, or ability to participate in federal student aid programs. This policy aims to simplify processes and reduce administrative burdens while improving consistency of compliance with Title IV requirements. This policy is a component of the university’s Title IV Financial Aid Compliance Program and interrelates with and supports other elements of that program.

◆ Note: This policy pertains to students who are enrolled in degree-seeking and approved certificate programs that are eligible for federal student financial aid and whose enrollment status with the university changes, such as by graduating, taking a leave of absence, or withdrawing from the university. Students wishing to withdraw from courses in which they have enrolled should follow the school or college requirements.

ENTITIES AFFECTED BY THIS POLICY

Application of this policy is based on the program in which a student is enrolled, which may be administered from any of the following locations. The school/college in which a student is enrolled, whether based in Ithaca or Weill Cornell Medicine, is responsible for submitting student enrollment status changes. Follow procedures according to where the school/college/program is based.

☑ Ithaca-based locations
☑ Cornell Tech campus
☑ Weill Cornell Medicine campuses

DEFINITIONS

These definitions apply to terms as they are used in this policy.

◆ Note: For purposes of this policy, the terms “school” and “college” are used interchangeably.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Academic Related Activities</th>
<th>Activities that are academic in nature or directly relate to academic endeavors, as determined by the university. See the “Appendix.”</th>
</tr>
</thead>
| Date of Institutional Knowledge | For students who utilize the official withdrawal process, the date the student or duly authorized representative began the official withdrawal process or officially notified the designated office of their intent to withdraw, whichever is later.
For students who do not utilize the official withdrawal process or provide notification of their intent to withdraw, the date the university became aware that the student ceased attendance. The university must determine the last date of attendance within 30 days after the end of (1) the payment period or the period of enrollment, (2) the academic year, or (3) the student’s educational program, whichever is earliest.
For future-dated student withdrawals, the day after the last day of the term of enrollment (term end +1) or the student’s latest class end date, whichever is later.
For students who graduate, the date a degree is posted (record is processed) in the student information system.
This date is used as the starting point of certain Title IV reporting requirements including days to report enrollment to the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS), days to return any unearned Title IV funds, and days to offer a post-withdrawal disbursement, if applicable.
◆ Note: Cornell is not required to take attendance. However, a school may use a documented last date of attendance in an academically related activity. |
| Designated Office | The office designated by each school or college where students must provide formal notification of a desired leave or withdrawal from the university to begin the official withdrawal process and which is responsible for posting conferred degrees (graduations).
◆ Note: Units shall designate the school/college registrar or office of student services (or equivalent) as the designated office. |
| Earliest Class Start Date | The scheduled start date of the student’s classes or the first day of the academic term, whichever is earlier. |
| Enrollment Status | The status of a registered student with the university for academic enrollment purposes. The university recognizes four basic student enrollment statuses:
• Enrolled (full time, three-quarter time, half time, less than half time)
• Leave
• Graduated
• Withdrawn
For purposes of this policy, changes in student enrollment status that need to be reported under Title IV requirements include the following:
• Voluntary leaves of absence (including health-related leaves) under University Policy 7.1, Voluntary Leave of Absence for Students |
POLICY 7.3

DEFINITIONS, continued

- Involuntary leaves of absence, including those under University Policy 7.2, Involuntary Student Leaves
- Voluntary withdrawals
- Required withdrawals
- Graduations (degree conferrals)

Last Date of Attendance
For students who utilize the official withdrawal process, the date the student or duly authorized representative began the official withdrawal process or officially notified the designated office of their intent to withdraw, whichever is earlier.

Cornell is not required to take attendance. However, a school may use a documented last date of attendance in an academically related activity.

For future-dated and between-term withdrawals, the day after the last day of the term of enrollment (term end +1) or the student's latest class end date, whichever is later.

For withdrawals occurring during scheduled university breaks of five days or longer, the last day of scheduled instruction before the break.

A student’s last date of attendance is used to determine the percentage of the payment period or period of enrollment completed and, therefore, the amount of aid a student has earned via the Return of Title IV Funds (R2T4) calculation.

Latest Class End Date
The scheduled end date of the student’s classes or the last day of exams for the academic term, whichever is later.

Leave of Absence

Involuntary
The separation of a student from the university and its facilities that is prescribed by the vice president for student and campus life. See University Policy 7.2, Involuntary Student Leave.

Voluntary
A separation of a student from the university requested by the student. See University Policy 7.1, Voluntary Leave of Absence for Students.

National Student Clearinghouse (NSC)
A nonprofit, third-party processor under contract with Cornell University to process and report student enrollment data to the NSLDS.

National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS)
The U.S. Department of Education system to which student enrollment information and any changes therein, including (but not limited to) withdrawals, graduations and other changes in status (e.g., full-time to half-time), must be reported in a timely manner (e.g., within 60 days).

Official Notification
Notification provided by a student to the designated office of their intent to withdraw or take a leave of absence. Can be written (including electronic communications) or oral. If provided orally, the school should document the date and details of the conversation with the student.

Official Withdrawal Process
The process established by each school/college for students to request a voluntary student withdrawal by notification to the respective designated office. Refer to policies on leaves of absence and withdrawals for more information (see “Related Resources”).

Registration, University
The official recognition of a student’s relationship with the university and the basic authorization for a student’s access to campus resources. To become registered, a student must:

- Settle all financial accounts, including current semester tuition.
- Satisfy New York State and university health requirements.
POLICY 7.3
Processing and Reporting Changes in Student Enrollment Status Under Title IV

- Have no registration holds from their college, Cornell Health, or the Bursar.

Enrollment in courses does not constitute or imply university registration.

Students who do not meet the requirements for registration are withdrawn from the university at the beginning of the sixth full week of instruction.

For students who fail to meet the requirements for registration, both the date of institutional knowledge and last date of attendance are the date the student is withdrawn from the university.

Return of Title IV Funds (R2T4) The required process to determine the earned and unearned portions of Title IV aid as of the last date of attendance based on the amount of time an eligible student spent in attendance. After the 60% point in the payment period or period of enrollment, a student has earned 100% of Title IV funds they were scheduled to receive during the period.

Satisfactory Academic Progress To be eligible for Title IV funds, a student must make satisfactory academic progress by meeting both the qualitative (grade-based) and quantitative (time-based) criteria described by their school. Refer to policies on Satisfactory Academic Progress for more information (see “Related Resources”).

Student Information System The primary administrative system where student information, including enrollment, status, and financial aid records, is housed and processed.

Term Begin Date The scheduled start date of the term, as determined by the official (published) academic calendars for Ithaca and WCM.

Term End Date The scheduled end date of the term, as determined by the official (published) academic calendars for Ithaca and WCM.

Title IV Within the Higher Education Act of 1965 (as amended), Title IV is the section that covers student financial aid including associated regulatory compliance requirements, as promulgated by the U.S. Department of Education. As a recipient and lender of Title IV student financial aid funds, Cornell is subject to Title IV institutional requirements, including reporting of changes in student enrollment status.

Withdrawal Retroactive A student withdrawal that would impact a term that has already ended.

Required A permanent separation of a student from the university that is required by university or school/college policy. Includes dismissals under the Campus Code of Conduct and required academic withdrawals under school/college policies.

Voluntary Withdrawal For purposes of this policy, a full and complete separation of a student from the university, at the student’s request, which would require readmission and registration for future enrollment.

POLICY 7.3
Processing and Reporting Changes in Student Enrollment Status Under Title IV

PRINCIPLES

Overview
This policy pertains to students who are enrolled in degree-seeking and approved certificate programs that are eligible for federal student financial aid and whose enrollment status with the university changes, including graduations, leaves of absence (voluntary and involuntary), and withdrawals (voluntary and required) from the university. Students wishing to withdraw from courses in which they have enrolled should follow the school or college requirements.

◆ Note: For students enrolled in dual-degree programs involving Ithaca and Weill Cornell Medicine (WCM), including dual-degree programs at Cornell Tech, the college in which the student is enrolled is responsible for submitting student enrollment status changes.

Timely and accurate processing of changes in student enrollment status is critical to maintaining compliance with federal Title IV requirements. Schools and colleges must report all student enrollment status changes (e.g. graduations, leaves of absence and withdrawals from the university) timely. For student withdrawals and leaves of absence, schools and colleges must provide appropriate documentation supporting the relevant dates to the Office of University Registrar (OUR) or the Office of the WCM Registrar. Those offices are responsible for approving dates (for withdrawals and leaves of absence), processing students’ records, notifying appropriate units of approved changes in student enrollment status, as necessary, and reporting to the U.S Department of Education in accordance with Title IV requirements. The Office of Financial Aid and Student Employment (FASE), or the WCM Office of Financial Aid, is responsible for determining and remitting appropriate amounts to be returned under Title IV in accordance with required timelines.

Commitment to Title IV Financial Aid Compliance
Cornell is committed to upholding its obligations with respect to all applicable laws and regulations, including compliance requirements of federal programs in which it participates, such as Title IV student financial aid. Such compliance is critical to continuing the financial support of students through federal student aid funds made available through Title IV programs. This commitment is embodied in the following statement of objective, as endorsed by the university president, provost and executive vice president and chief financial officer:

“Cornell University strives to achieve consistent compliance with Title IV financial aid regulations and requirements.”

Requirements of a Non-Attendance Taking University
As determined by its primary accreditation body, the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, Cornell University is not required or expected to take attendance in academically related activities such as lectures, discussions, labs, or studios. Therefore, the university is required to follow U.S. Department of Education guidance pertaining to institutions that are not required to take attendance, which may differ in some key respects from institutions that are required to take attendance. For more information, refer to the Federal Student Aid (FSA) Handbook.
POLICY 7.3

Consistent Treatment of All Students Under this Policy

While many students at Cornell University do not receive Title IV federal student aid, processing and reporting of all changes in student enrollment status are to be treated and determined consistent with this policy.
POLICY 7.3

Processing and Reporting Changes in Student Enrollment Status Under Title IV

PROCEDURES – ITHACA-BASED LOCATIONS AND CORNELL TECH

The following procedures apply to schools, colleges, or programs administered from Ithaca-based locations and Cornell Tech.

Communicating Student Withdrawals and Leaves of Absence

For students who wish to take a leave of absence or withdraw from the university, direct them to the unit designated office. Faculty and staff members who become aware that a student has taken a leave or withdrawn from the university should communicate to the respective unit designated office.

Designating a Unit Office

Each academic unit subject to this policy must designate an office/function within the school/college, such as Registrar or Student Services, to which students must communicate requests to take a voluntary leave or withdraw from the university using the official withdrawal process. The unit designated office is also responsible for posting graduations (degree conferrals) in the student information system.

Units must establish or align unit-level policies pertaining to this university policy. Schools and colleges are responsible for ensuring that all necessary faculty and staff members are aware of their responsibilities under this policy, such as notifying the unit designated office of any student withdrawals on a timely basis.

Determining Dates for Withdrawals and Leaves of Absence

Dates associated with student leaves and withdrawals directly impact tuition adjustments, enrollment and grades, Title IV compliance, and reporting to the National Student Clearinghouse (NSC) and the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS). As such, accuracy in determining dates is of utmost importance.

Last Date of Attendance

For students who utilize the official withdrawal process, use the earlier of the date the student (or duly authorized representative):

- Began the school/college official withdrawal process.
- Officially notified the designated office of their intent to withdraw.

For required withdrawals, use the date the university notifies the student.

If the unit designated office is provided with documentation from an instructor, committee chairperson, or another individual that indicates participation in academically related activities, the dates on the documentation must be used to determine the last date of attendance.

For students who completed the term and between-term withdrawals, use the day after the last date of the term of enrollment or latest class end date, whichever is later.
POLICY 7.3
Processing and Reporting Changes in Student Enrollment Status Under Title IV

PROcedures – Ithaca-Based Locations and Cornell Tech, continued

For withdrawals occurring during scheduled university breaks of five days or longer, use the last day of scheduled instruction before the break.

Date of Institutional Knowledge

For students who utilize the official withdrawal process, use the later of the date the student (or duly authorized representative):

- Began the school/college official withdrawal process.
- Officially notified the designated office of their intent to withdraw.

For students who do not utilize the official withdrawal process, use the date that the school/college became aware that the student ceased attendance or participation in academically related activities.

◆ Note: Designated offices and associate deans are encouraged to consult with the Office of University Registrar with any questions around the determination of dates pertaining to student withdrawals.

Documenting Withdrawals and Leaves of Absence

All student withdrawals and leaves must be supported by adequate, relevant documentation such as approved leave/withdrawal form, letters (e.g., academic action letter, health leave of absence letter), emails, or other appropriate documents. Supporting documentation must clearly indicate the student’s name and school/college and last date of attendance or the date the student began the withdrawal process or otherwise provided official notification they were withdrawing. To support the date of institutional knowledge, date/time-stamp all letters or other documentation to indicate the date received. For electronic communications, the date stamp of the electronic communication will support the date of institutional knowledge. If a student provides official notification of withdrawal orally, the school should document the date and conversation with the student.

Unit designated offices and associate deans are encouraged to consult with the Office of University Registrar with any questions related to documentation.

All necessary supporting documentation must be stored in the electronic student record imaging system (CUESR) and retained in accordance with University Policy 4.7, Retention of University Records.

◆ Note: Documentation containing sensitive or confidential information, such as medical diagnoses or grades, should be handled in accordance with university policy requirements, including University Policy 5.10, Information Security. Medical diagnosis documentation should not be included in student withdrawal documentation.
POLICY 7.3
Processing and Reporting Changes in Student Enrollment Status Under Title IV

Submitting and Approving Withdrawals and Leaves of Absence

Unit designated offices must submit withdrawals and leaves via the Student Information System for approval of dates by the OUR within five business days of when the designated office is notified of the withdrawal (i.e., the date of notification).

The judicial administrator, or a designee, must provide notification to the OUR within five business days of final determination of suspension or dismissal of a student.

The vice president for student and campus life, or a designee, must provide notification to the OUR within five business days of final determination of involuntary student leaves.

Cornell Health must provide health leave of absence letters to the respective unit designated office within two business days of notifying the student or duly authorized representative of a recommended health leave. For distributing health leave of absence letters, Cornell Health must maintain and verify regularly (at least annually) contacts with unit designated offices and corresponding supervisors/associate deans.

The OUR will review and approve, or seek additional information related to, submitted withdrawal and leave requests within five business days. For submitted withdrawals and leaves, the OUR is responsible for verifying that sufficient and appropriate documentation has been provided and validating key dates associated with the withdrawal, including the following:

- Earliest class start date
- Latest class end date
- Term begin date
- Term end date
- Last date of attendance
- Date of institutional knowledge

Unit designated offices have three business days to resubmit any corrected student withdrawals with any additional or updated supporting documentation as required by the OUR.

Processing and Reporting Withdrawals and Leaves of Absence

In the Student Information System, the OUR will process approved student withdrawals and leaves of absence and revise tuition as necessary. The OUR is responsible for reporting student withdrawals and leaves to the NSLDS within 60 days of the date of institutional knowledge. In reporting student enrollment data to the NSLDS, all data errors must be corrected as soon as possible, and in all cases within 10 days.
PROCEDURE 7.3
Processing and Reporting Changes in Student Enrollment Status Under Title IV

Processing Retroactive Withdrawals and Leaves of Absence
A retroactive withdrawal or leave is one that would impact a semester that has already ended. Before approving a retroactive withdrawal or leave, the school/college registrar or associate dean must consult with the OUR and the Office of Financial Aid and Student Employment (FASE).

Processing Requests for Future-Dated Student Withdrawals and Leaves of Absence
On occasion, a student will indicate their intention to withdraw or take a leave of absence at a future date; for example, undergraduates who are taking the next semester off. In these cases the last date of attendance and date of notification must be the same and must be dated the day after the last day of the term of enrollment (term end +1) or the student’s latest class end date, whichever is later. Future-dated withdrawals and leaves should be submitted by the school/college by the end of the current semester.

Returning Title IV Funds
Once a student withdrawal or leave is approved and processed in the student information system, FASE must complete the Return of Title IV Funds (R2T4) calculation, in accordance with Title IV requirements, to determine the earned and unearned portions of Title IV aid as of the student’s last date of attendance.

Next, FASE will revise the student’s awards in the student information system, according to the R2T4 calculation. FASE will then remit necessary (unearned) funds to the U.S. Department of Education within 45 days of the date of institutional knowledge.

For undergraduate and graduate (non-professional) students, FASE must communicate the revised award and exit interview requirements to the student.

For professional students, after FASE performs the R2T4 calculation, the respective professional school’s office of financial aid must determine any revision needed for institutional aid and communicate the revised award and exit interview requirements to the student.

Adjusting Student Accounts
After processing changes in student enrollment status, the OUR must provide notification to units charging student accounts, which have 10 business days to review, adjust and remove (as necessary) charges to student accounts.

The Office of the Bursar must pay to the student or student’s parents/family any remaining Title IV credit balance funds within 14 days of the date the R2T4 calculation is completed.

Implementing the Policy and Monitoring Compliance

The vice provost for enrollment oversees implementation of this policy including whether all responsibilities established herein are carried out properly and consistently.

The OUR is responsible for ensuring that individuals in unit designated offices are aware of their responsibilities under this policy and providing any necessary training. The OUR will monitor compliance with this policy, in part by developing and tracking submission metrics by school/college, such as the number of days to submit changes in student enrollment status and the number of submissions with incorrect dates, to be reported to units as necessary, at least annually. If noncompliance is identified (e.g. late reported or inaccurate student enrollment status data), the OUR must promptly notify the appropriate parties, such as the vice provost for enrollment and the director of compliance for financial aid.

FASE is responsible for ensuring that individuals in professional school financial aid offices are aware of their responsibilities under this policy and providing any necessary training. FASE is responsible for monitoring R2T4-related components of this policy, including the establishment of metrics, such as the number of days to return unearned funds and the number of errors identified in R2T4 calculation reviews. If noncompliance is identified (e.g. incorrect amount of funds returned), FASE must promptly notify the appropriate parties, such as the vice provost for enrollment and the director of compliance for financial aid.

The director of compliance for financial aid plays an important role overseeing compliance with this policy by:

- Monitoring awareness of and compliance with this policy, in conjunction with overall Title IV Financial Aid Compliance Program activities.
- Reviewing relevant unit-level policies and procedures to ensure consistency with this policy.
- Conducting regular reviews of changes in student enrollment status reported to the NSLDS to validate the accuracy of reported dates, sufficiency and appropriateness of supporting documentation, and timely reporting of all necessary changes in student enrollment status (within 60 days of the date of institutional knowledge).
- Conducting regular reviews of R2T4 calculations to validate accuracy of the amount of funds returned and timely remittance of unearned funds to the U.S. Department of Education (within 45 days of the date of institutional knowledge).
- In conjunction with the University Audit Office, investigating instances of noncompliance including root cause analysis to determine changes to associated business processes and internal controls necessary to prevent or detect such issues in the future.
